OUTSTANDING LEADERS MAKE UP CAMP STAFF

For over a quarter century, the Charter Oak Council, Boy Scouts of America, has been proud of having an outstanding camp staff of Scout-trained men and boys; the kind of leadership that boys like and parents appreciate.

On July 3, 1960, the Lake of Isles Scout Reservation will assume and carry on the traditions and functions so proudly maintained by Camp Pioneer. With the transfer of material things will also go the loyalty and support of the many men and boys who were the staff and backbone of the great Pioneer legend.

Arnold E. Schofield will direct the 1st season of the new reservation while Richard F. Stevens will serve as business manager. Wendell A. Rapp will supervise and coordinate various features of the Scoutmasters' family camp, Explorer base, trails, archery and rifle ranges, etc. Ernie Plude, former Pioneer Camp Ranger, has established residence at the new camp with his family and once again will supervise the physical operation.

It is expected that many Scoutmasters will come to camp with their own troops this summer to share this exciting outdoor experience with them. If, however, the Scoutmaster cannot attend, the camp will provide Scout-trained leadership.

Several of the old-timers of last year's Camp Pioneer staff will return for the 1960 season and many new applicants are now being interviewed for staff positions. A select and well-trained staff of about 80, a great majority Eagle Scouts, will insure expert supervision and training for every Boy Scout and Explorer who attends.

Experts are in charge of all waterfront activities such as swimming, boating, canoeing and sailing. The entire Scoutercraft program, such as camping, pioneering, nature, handicraft, etc., is taught by the men and older boys of the staff.
